Rabbi's Message  RABBI ISAAC MEYER WISE – a man you should know about!

Dear Friends – Shalom Chaverim!

I hope you had a nice Passover. We had a great time at the Temple from doing a model Seder and beautiful crafts with our Religious School students and singing songs and telling the story to our Pre-Schoolers, to discussing the “forbidden Kitniyot” (legumes) with Eliana Plotkin, to hosting 70+ people at our Community Seder. Passover is a beautiful holiday inspiring gratitude and hope - two essential aspects of Jewish life.

Speaking of Jewish life, in March I attended the Reform Rabbis’ conference in Cincinnati. It was exciting and inspiring to join together with over 600 colleagues and attend a special day of learning at our seminary – the original Hebrew Union College campus. (There are also campuses in LA, Jerusalem and NY, where I studied and was ordained.) A special theme of the conference was to celebrate the 200th birthday of Rabbi Isaac Mayer Wise – the father of Reform Judaism in America and the founder of the Hebrew Union College. Wise was dynamic, bold, imaginative and truly pioneering. Why did he establish the Rabbinical school in Ohio? Because in those days Cincinnati was a boomtown and he moved there in 1854 after implementing too many reforms in his previous congregation in Albany, NY and being asked to leave.

Wise, originally Isaac Weis, was born on March 29, 1819 in Bohemia (today’s Czech Republic), then part of the Austrian Empire. In those days, in order to prevent the Jewish community from growing, the government restricted the number of Jewish marriages allowed! The number of Jews in the community was fixed by law, and with few exceptions no marriages were permitted until vacancies occurred by death. Rabbi Wise, who fathered 10 children, violated this egregious law, performing Jewish wedding ceremonies, and left for the religious freedom offered in America at age 27 (1846).

He implemented some progressive reforms at his first Congregation, Beth-El of Albany, New York. Beth-El was the first American synagogue to:

- Count women in forming a minyan or religious quorum.
- Allow men and women to sit together, in “family pews”.
- Eliminate Bar Mitzvah, which in Wise's view was meaningless because at that age a boy cannot understand Judaism, and replace it with a later and more informed confirmation, open to girls as well.
- Have a mixed-sex choir.

Not afraid to share his modern, “radical” beliefs, he mentioned that he did not believe in the coming of the Messiah or the resurrection of the dead, when visiting another congregation for an interview. When this congregation documented these statements in the newspaper and his congregation heard about it, the trustees of the synagogue dismissed him - which Wise did not accept! At the following day's service, the first day of Rosh Hashanah, as the Torah was being taken out of the Ark, opponents and defenders of Wise began to argue with one another. The fracas was so loud that the Sheriff was called; the Sheriff then cleared the synagogue, locked the doors, and took the keys. This was the end of Wise's position at Temple Beth-El, hence his relocation to Cincinnati!

In April 1854, Wise became rabbi of the B'nai Yeshurun congregation in Cincinnati. His main goals were to form a union which might put an end to the Jewish anarchy in the United States – he sought to unify the American Jewish community with a new type of American Reform Judaism. Toward this end he created the UAHC (Union of American Hebrew Congregations – now referred to as the URJ – Union of Reform Judaism), and produced a prayer-book titled Minhag America (The American Custom) to be used by all the congregations of the country. He pursued his driving vision: establishing a theological seminary to train American rabbis in the Reform tradition, founding the Hebrew Union College in 1875. He also created the CCAR- the Central Conference of American Rabbis, our professional organization.

Wise was truly a talented, pioneering man; he wrote many books, articles and even novels! He left the restrictions of the Old Country and really ran with the freedoms offered in the New Land, devoting his life to his deep-seated conviction that American Jews must not only accept change, they must also embrace it. He envisioned Judaism as a progressive religion that needed to be creatively adapted to modern culture, not a fixed tradition to be maintained. He died in 1900, leaving the imprint of his ideas, energy and ambition on Judaism in America.

SHABBAT UNDER THE STARS

Last year’s outdoor Shabbat services were a great success! This year we’ll have Shabbat on the patio during the summer months at 7:30 pm. Join us on Fridays 6/21, 7/19, and 8/23 for these extra special services.

Preceding these services, we’ll have potluck dairy/vegetarian dinner at 6:15 pm. Save the dates and bring your friends too! Please RSVP, mailto:info@cbesimi.org or (805) 581-3723.

Student Rabbis to Lead Service

Please join us on Friday June 28th as 2 student Rabbis from Hebrew Union College "HUC" lead our Shabbat service. (Rabbi Michele will be in Israel!)

Liora Alban and Daniel Freedman came to CBE in March for our Shabbat Lunch 'n Learn as guest of the speaker. We liked them so much, we invited them to lead the service. This is a special opportunity to meet the newest generation of Rabbis who will lead us into the future.

Liora Alban is a rising fifth-year rabbinical student and a rabbinic intern at Leo Baeck Temple. She was born and raised in the San Fernando Valley and completed her undergraduate education at UC Berkeley. Afterwards, she moved to Jerusalem to begin her rabbinical studies at HUC-JIR where she has since earned her Master of Arts in Jewish Education and her graduate certificate in Jewish Nonprofit Management. She plans on being ordained as a rabbi in May of 2020. Liora enjoys finding ways to blend together her passion for visual art with her love of Judaism.
President's Message

Just a few short years ago, I was invited by Michael Hollander to attend a CBE Board meeting. Having been VP of Finances and Co-chairperson at my previous synagogue, Michael felt I could be an asset for CBE. At first I hesitated. Did I want to get involved with the politics, financing, problems and triumphs of another temple? With great trepidation, I acquiesced to attend a meeting. As I had suspected, CBE faced the same trials and tribulations of my former temple. How could the temple increase membership, how could it get membership more involved and commit to the values of the CBE family, how could it increase fund raising. It was déjà vu. That year, I attended numerous Board meetings. At each successive meeting, I gained more insight into the workings and operation of CBE. At the conclusion of the Board’s year, I was asked if I wanted to serve on the next Board. Once again I asked myself, “do I really want to commit. Would my presence on the Board make a difference?” I knew that I could add 2 + 2 and was fairly competent in financial matters so I agreed to serve as the treasurer of CBE. During my three years as treasurer, I made certain that CBE would function in the black and achieve financial stability. This was accomplished even with the thousands of dollars CBE invested in the improvement and beautification of the temple building and the remodeling of the sanctuary. Of course, I did not do this alone. With the hard work of CBE’s Board, the temple has been transformed to where we can feel proud when we attend our weekly Shabbat services. In a few short months I hope to showcase our new Ark, which has been designed and is being built in Israel with a tentative delivery date of before the next Jewish New Year.

As the new President of CBE, I hope to continue the Temple’s tradition of providing a Jewish home in Simi Valley and the surrounding communities. Please let me know if you would like to get involved or have ideas for new programs and events.

I wish our entire CBE family and our incoming Board, a very happy and successful year.

With warmest regards,

Les A. Sutton, DDS
CBE President

SHABBAT DOESN'T JUST HAPPEN;
WE MUST MAKE IT HAPPEN!

Our ancient sage Hillel wrote these well-known and important words: “If I am not for myself, who will be for me? If I am for myself alone, who am I? If not now, when?

Shabbat is something we can each do for ourselves.

If I am not for myself is the first point of the quote above. How do I deal with my personal stress? One answer is to take the time to quietly analyze my personal situation. Who has the time? Each Friday evening our congregation has services. One of the purposes of that Shabbat service is to take time to think about ourselves and our place in the world. Another purpose is to take the time to appreciate what is good in the world. God knows it is much easier to number our difficulties than to count our blessings. We set aside some time to find, acknowledge and appreciate the goodness in our lives. This is what Shabbat is all about.

How can I possibly prepare a nice Shabbat dinner and make my way to services? Those of us with children in the house, how do we come home from work, make a nice dinner and then get the kids out the door for services?

Here are a few thoughts: Make Shabbat at home even if you bring in a prepared meal. Take the time to light Shabbat Candles. Don’t be in a hurry. Take a few minutes. Set up the candles, take a deep breath, close your eyes, recite the blessing as best as you can and silently start a mental exercise of naming literally all the positive blessings in you life. Here is a beginning example of a list: I have a home to live in, I have family and/or friends, I have food to eat . . . Those are the basics, the rest is up to you.

When we say the blessing of the Challah (you really should get one for Shabbat, they’re good), we are also reminding ourselves that we can connect with Jews all over the world as we are doing the same thing at the same time within our time zones. Also, we are fortunate just to have food. Too many in the world don’t have enough food.

When we lift the wine glass, we rejoice and recall the creation of the universe as well as appreciating “that wonderful sweet Shabbat wine.” We take a moment to acknowledge the beauty that is in the world. When things are very difficult in our lives, we must pause to appreciate the positive. The wine is sweet on purpose.

Also recall the last part of Hillel’s words, “If not now, when?” So . . . what are you waiting for? Many in our congregation make Shabbat at home. If Friday evening is difficult, do something special on Saturday . . . remember, it is still Shabbat until the Sun goes down Saturday evening. Do it for yourself. Have we had this discussion before? A little nudge couldn’t hurt.

REMEMBER: If I am not for myself, who will be for me. If I am for myself alone, who am I? If not now, when?”

SHABBAT SHALOM

Women of CBE

In February we had an evening of “Jewish Women Telling Jokes.” Seriously! We did laugh a lot.

At the March meeting a fireman talked to us about safety, following evacuation instructions, and answering our questions. We were happy to have men and people from outside our temple family attend this informative event.

The biggest fundraiser of the year for Sisterhood was in April. We had over 70 people attended “Laugh Out Loud Night,” with two comedians, a silent auction, raffle, wonderful tasty dinner from Viva La Pasta, a professional bartender, and of course Ken Bahr as our photographer. Everyone laughed and laughed. What a great evening!!!!

On April 9, the installation dinner for our new incoming board and to acknowledge our outgoing board, at the Wood Ranch Country Club, was a very nice event.

Lots coming up in May!!!! Look and see.

The May 14th program will be “Memory Unearthed.” Join us to see what this is all about. (See flyer below.) The Women of CBE will be hosting a fun evening of Bunco for all on May 18. It is a very easy dice game. There will be the game, a raffle, and light refreshments. $20. Starts at 7 pm. See flyer on page 9.

The annual Sisterhood Shabbat will be held Friday, May 31. All current sisterhood members will have the opportunity to participate. If you are not contacted, contact us to get your part.

On June 11th our program will feature Ter Lieberstein, a Grief Recovery Method Specialist. She will lead a musical and inspirational presentation. See flyer below.

Hope to see you.

For me, it was very meaningful to pray with beautiful, uplifting music in the I.M. Wise synagogue in Cincinnati, with 600+ rabbis, men and women, sitting together. His legacy lives on!

See you in shul! Shalom u’vrachah,

Rabbi Michele Paskow

Thank you.

How to Observe a Yahrzeit at CBE

Light a 24-hour memorial candle in your home at sundown on the evening that begins the yahrzeit (anniversary of death.). It is also customary to attend Shabbat services at Temple and recite the Kaddish.

At Congregation B’nai Emet, names of your loved ones are read on the Friday evening before the Yahrzeit. If you observe the Gregorian (English) date, the name will be read the Friday BEFORE the yahrzeit date whether it’s the Jewish or Gregorian calendar. It is suggested that you make a contribution to the Temple so that the memory of your loved one can be honored with an act of love and kindness.

To purchase a leaf for the Tree of Life to remember a loved one, contact mailto:info@cbesimi.org or call (805) 581-3723
Cemetery Program

Experience has taught the Jewish people how vital it is to anticipate the future and to be prepared... to act before the need occurs. This is especially important when considering making pre-need arrangements for cemetery property.

B’nai Emet’s program with Mount Sinai Mortuary for pre-need arrangements now has a unique program available to our Temple members and has already seen results.

You can perform two mitzvoth with one action. You can relieve your loved ones of a distasteful, but necessary, chore at a most stressful time, and you can help support Congregation B’nai Emet. Now is the time to do it!! Give yourself “peace of mind” before the need arises.

Contact either RuthAnn Rossman via the Temple office, or Josh Ryan at Mount Sinai, Advance Planning Representative, 805.306.6411 mailto:jtryan@mountsinaiparks.org

Identify yourself as a CBE member and receive all the details. There is no obligation.
